WHAT'S NOT THERE

1. לך לך
2. “from your father’s house...” In other words, do not look at the way things seem at first glance but rather to the root of the matter. (Mei HaShiloach)
3. One suspends what one knows so that one might discover what one could not see before. (Edmund Husserl)
4. “...to the land that I will show you,” where I shall make you visible, where your potential being will be realized in multiform and unpredictable ways. (Sefat Emet)

5. "...to the land which I will show you" means that your intense union will be in a place called "which I will show you." For God has no end, and will always increase the lights of the blessed Infinite more and more for you, and this you will find in the land of Israel. (Mei HaShiloach)
6. "Listen." (The opening word and sentence to Miles, The Autobiography)

Don't play what's there; play what's not there. (Miles Davis)
